

Trish Thuy Trang, Crossing Over

There's a line that you can't see
But I know exactly where I stand
I'm afraid I'll go too far
And you'll have my heart within your hands
Searching so long
And I've been hurt so many times
Feelings so strong
It's getting hard for me to hide

Chorus
I'm crossing over to you
And I just don't know what I should do
I get all so confused
I'm on the edge I'm crossing to you

If I stay I'll never know
Look both ways and try to take it slow
I'm falling fast I lose control
And soon I'll pass the point of no return
Crossing the line
Between just friends or love of mine
Hold me tonight
And lead me to the other side

Chorus
