

Trish Thuy Trang, Don't Know Why

Don't know why you always want to say good-bye
I guess you're seeing someone new
If it's true oh baby please don't try to hide your feelings
I will try to learn to live with all this pain I feel inside

Give our love another try before you turn and walk away
Cause my love for you is still in my heart
You may haven't seen it all
What I feel deep within my soul
I just want you to know so please don't let me go

Don't know why you always want to make me cry
And take away all we shared
Baby please why don't you try to think it over
Life without you now is not the same cause I'm still loving you

Give our love another try before you turn and walk away
Cause my love for you is still in my heart
You may haven't seen it all
What I feel deep within my soul
I just want you to know so please don't let me go
