

Trish Thuy Trang, Siren

Like a Siren's song you rescued me.
In your eyes I have found my way home.
When the world outside falls all I need is you.
In your heart is where I'll stay.

The strongest winds can't tear me from you.
With each passing breath you've consumed my soul.
I will sail through the eye of the storm,
just to die in your arms.

CHORUS

And as the tide shall rise under these stars tonight.
I'll hold on my heart till I find you again
dreaming of a world far away.

The strongest winds can't tear me from you.
With each passing breath you've consumed my soul.
I will sail through the eye of the storm,
just to die in your arms.

Chorus

oh i'll hold on my heart till i find you again
dreaming of a world far away
