

Trisha Yearwood, I'm Still Alive

Woke up this mornin', just another day
Got myself out of bed in the usual way Threw back the curtains and the sun was shinin'
Well it seems these days
I got such good timin'
Since I let you go
Well what do ya know

Guess I fooled everybody
Said I'd love you till the day that I die
Even if you didn't love me
Sorry baby, I guess I lied
You're gone and I'm still alive
Oh yea

I'm the kind of girl that never fails
To hang on to the past by my fingernails
And I can't help it even I'm amazed
At how much better they look
Painted in pink sorbet
What took me so long
To sing this song

Guess I fooled everybody
Said I'd love you till the day that I die
Even if you didn't love me
Sorry baby, I guess I lied
You're gone and I'm still alive
Oh yea

I said good-bye and I survived
I'm still alive

Since I let you go
Well what do ya know

Guess I fooled everybody
Said I'd love you till the day that I die
Even if you didn't love me
Sorry baby, I guess I lied
You're gone and I'm still alive
Oh yea

I'm still alive Oh yea
Well what do ya know
