Trisha Yearwood, I'm Still Alive

Woke up this mornin', just another day Got myself out of bed in the usual way Threw back the curtains and the sun was shinin' Well it seems these days I got such good timin' Since I let you go Well what do ya know

Guess I fooled everybody Said I'd love you till the day that I die Even if you didn't love me Sorry baby, I guess I lied You're gone and I'm still alive Oh yea

I'm the kind of girl that never fails
To hang on to the past by my fingernails
And I can't help it even I'm amazed
At how much better they look
Painted in pink sorbet
What took me so long
To sing this song

Guess I fooled everybody Said I'd love you till the day that I die Even if you didn't love me Sorry baby, I guess I lied You're gone and I'm still alive Oh yea

I said good-bye and I survived I'm still alive

Since I let you go Well what do ya know

Guess I fooled everybody Said I'd love you till the day that I die Even if you didn't love me Sorry baby, I guess I lied You're gone and I'm still alive Oh yea

I'm still alive Oh yea Well what do ya know
