Trivium, Rain

Every time I'm left alone My misery begins to drown me Tied by a rope of anxiety Thrown overboard

As I'm pulled under the tides of this fast paced world I refuse to see

[Chorus] Time will always be the thing that kills me truly Open these eyes waking from a dream feigning

My lungs fill up with letdown Disappointment in self and everyone Expectations died in failure abandonment my unsavior

As I'm pulled under the tides of this fast paced world I refuse to see

[Chorus]

Absolution at the sight of your demise I know what I must do Choke Die choking on your every word

Swallow every blasphemy

Absolution at the sight of your demise I know what I must do

Swallow every blasphemy Eat out your heart and make it bleed Tie the noose around my neck Make this life end
