

Trouble, Tragedy Man

In state his glory will forever creeping evil robes of sorrow too promises worth keeping

Rosemary should remember me
it was her son that died regret to inform that you have won a trip to the other side spirits move musically appearing in human form crawling shape intruder mother you keep me warm

Rosemary should remember me
a trip to the other side

Another tragedy man - oh yeah
Another tragedy man

once he smiled silent hope nightly from azure towers magic solitude now watch above the flowers

Rosemary should remember me

Another tragedy man - oh yeah
Another tragedy man

As walking in the ghost of a star thinking 'bout the world that you shall explore I was her only son son, son, son
yeah
