

Tub Ring, Habitat

We placed our compound among a reservation
Where my children could own all they see
And now the sun sets upon a vacant skyline
Where my family will grow old with me

All is right
All is right
Everything's clearer now
Everything's fine
All is right

You'll do fine with your skills in our habitat
Cause your beauty is something to add
There'll be no question why
Once we diversify
You'll exist knowing love in our habitat
Welcome dear you have finally come home

All is right
All is right
Everything's clearer now
Everything's fine
All is right

Cause the way this thing works is a miracle
See the gears are all turning in time
The whole picture's in view
So impressive to you
Take a second to make yourself understand
There's an order to everything great

A place for everything
And everything has its place

This is not a choice

All is right

You'll do fine with your skills in our habitat
Cause your beauty is something to add
There'll be no question why
Once we diversify
You'll exist knowing love in our habitat
Welcome dear you have finally come home

All is right
