

Tupac, Easy

I hate it when you say everything behind my back and I dont even understand what the heck your trying to do and even if I knew and what you put me through this song is really easy so I named it after you

Everytime you look at me I think why cant we just agree on something that we'll both ignore I'll turn around you'll hit the floor but maybe kids will turn around and everything will get along so let me tell you here and now cuz all I wanna know is how

Why did you have to complicate it everything was great we made it in the end we all blamed you but we all know your easy to

I dont wanna turn my head to your back looks like we got off track again now that your gone I guess its time we both went on

but all of this will stop
