

Twice Born, Killer Refuge

They destroy their minds, it's for the good time
They destroy their lives, it's just for the high
They play around with what can own them for the rest of their lives.

Friends watch their friends' minds, slowly drift away
I'm straight, I'm clean, I'll stay this way.

Their blind eyes see no other way
To fill their void, their insecurities
They see nowhere else to run to escape the heartache in their lives.

Friends watch their friendships slowly fade away
Families watch their loved ones slowly die away
I'm straight, I'm clean, I'll stay this way.

I know a better refuge that you can run to
His arms are always open and He won't kill you
Your problems are resolved when you run to this Refuge
He'll give you a hope and a strength to carry through
Your life in shambles, God will put it back together
When you give up your pride and just ask Him, He will be there.

I'm straight, I'm clean, I'll stay this way.
