

Twice Born, Not Alone

You've made this choice
And all your friends are dogging you
They just can't understand what's happening to you
All your disbelief has all been broken down
The God you thought was false turned your life around.

At the bottom of your hole (He Came)
To show you He was real, no more religious games
From the bottom of your heart (He Changed)
Everything you thought would always be the same.

You found Jesus Christ (a Friend),
Something more than a God just looking for sin
So fight the fight (of Faith), never give up
It's worth it in the end.

All this pressure is eating you alive
But you're not alone, we all fight this fight
You're not alone, You're not alone
We're right by your side.
