

Ty Herndon, The Last Dance

Nervous and scared I asked you for a dance all of my buddies said "yeah right, fat chance she'll never go for a good ol' boy like you" but somewhere between my stutter and stammer before I could ask you had already answered and to to my surprise you said that you'd love to

CHORUS

and they all laughed when I stepped on your toes but they coz quiet when you moves in close they lost their smiles when they knew they'd lost their chance my two left feet couldnt do a right thing I looked like a fool but I felt like a king they got a laugh but look whose got the last dance

Nervous and scared after saying I do all of my buddies made fun of the new groom as they stood in line waiting to kiss the bride they kept us apart dancing with you all night long but when the band started into their last song I was the one standing by your side

Chorus

well they got a laugh but look who got the last dance
