

Tyketto, Standing Alone

Staring out the window like I'm waiting for a change
If I stare long enough I'd see it when it came
Use the book of numbers by the silent telephone
Called up everyone I found but didn't talk to no one

And the rain comes down as if it's trying to wash me away
And there ain't no romantic movie lines like I said

Standing alone like I got no where to go
Standing alone like the day that I was born out on my own
I believe this boy had grown
Standing alone

Ain't no way to take a blow when every cheek's been turned
I can't show another side when every side's been burned
I'm helpless can't find a raging heart
And I got no use for being torn apart
And the world don't seem to have no use for me
Cuz you've given nothing and nothing isn't free

Standing alone like I got nowhere to go
Standing alone like the day that I was born
Out on my own I believe this boy grown
Standing alone

Can't keep it all inside
I need someone to stand with me by my side
Give me something to fight
Something to hold on to
I just don't wanna be standing alone

And the rain comes down as if it's trying to wash me away
And there ain't no romantic movie lines like I said

Standing alone like I got no where to go
Standing alone like the day that I was born
Out on my own I believe this boy has grown
Standing alone like I got nowhere to go
Standing alone like the day that I was born
Out on my own I believe this boy has grown
Standing alone
