

Tyler Kyte, Sunlight

I live, and die,
and I'm alive, in every way
In time again, I see the light is gone away I'm picking up what's left behind from yesterday and I'm standing on the road, that they could never take
And through all this chaos,
I can sleep and (drift) you Well, you may not think it, but I'm telling you it's true
This only moment,
I can see what I'm to do,
I'll just write the only words,
that mean the most to you I'm telling you that,
I need you,
I'm in love with you,
You're my sunlight
You're my sunlight
Well, I live, and die,
and I'm alive, in every way
In time again, I see
the light is gone away
This only moment,
I can see what I'm to do
I'll just write the only words,
And I'm telling you that,
that I need you
I'm in love with you,
I'm telling you that,
I need you
I'm so in love with you
You're my sunlight
You're my sunlight
You're my sunlight,
that I hold,
in my heart,
when it's two in the morning,
when it's cold,
when it's dark,
You're my sunlight
