

Tyler Shaw, Back to Me

Seems so easy, when it's easy
Like nothing in the world can hold you back
'Til the colors fade to black
I'll be happy, I'll be laughing
But I am miles away from living
The life that I have wanted

Now I think I see, out on the horizon
I begin to breathe, as the sun is rising

I feel hope, I feel peace
I've got everything I need
I feel love, I feel safe
I feel the start of change
Goodbye pain, goodbye grief
Goodbye darkness, watch you leave
I finally feel like I'm
Coming back to me

Every moment, I'm still growing
Just like when we were little kids
Running through the wind
Every heart ache, it left me open
It always hurt, but in the end
It made me who I am
Now I think I know, what's on the horizon
I watch my daughter grow
As she watches the sun rising
