

Tyrant Tea Club, Goin' Down

Do you see him standing there, crying for a love he hasn't found in a world which you won't stop from spinning round and round and round

Goin down but you can't feel goin down but you won't heal goin down too blind to see

When he steps out of the line, like a scream without a sound like a song that can't be sung, like the sun that's going down

Goin down but you can't feel...

He's so close to you ,
does he dare to look,
does he dare to show
is he worth a smile,
'cause he's just like you you know it's true, you do

Goin down but you can't feel...
