

Tyrant Tea Club, Hard To Let Go

'been a long time baby, It's been lucky from the start, we've sworn to stay together but deep inside our hearts we both knew it could end someday, now it's time to break apart all you do is smiling, your best artificial smile, but I can feel the anger, that is raging right behind your eyes.
I know it's not that easy as we wanted it to be.
You know that I have to tried so hard, but you've got to set me free 'cause it's so hard, damn hard to let go hard, damn hard to let flow, so hard to see you go

I know you're sad, but you know that I am, too.
I often get the feeling You know me better than I do.
I wish you wouldn't stand there,
I wish you wouldn't cry,
I know that you will find your way, I'm sure that I'll make mine, but it's so

hard, damn hard to let flow,
so hard to see you go

I tried to find a way out, but finally had to give in, that there's no hope for the fool who thinks that fate never wins
