U2, Dancin' Shoes

I know you're so sad So sad you can't cry But I know you let go Although you can't remember why

Your lipstick don't fit Your strap's coming loose You're out in the hall Waltzing the blues

Now you hurt somewhere They won't find a bruise You've been learning to walk In those dancin' shoes

I had a mama
She told me 'bout you
She said true love don't lie
You touch that woman
And the smoke won't leave your eyes

You're talking, you walk 'cause you can't refuse Learning to walk In those dancin' shoes

Now you hurt somewhere They won't find a bruise Learning to walk In those dancin' shoes
