Ugly Kid Joe, It's A Lie

Always on the road You know I'm never looking back And I always slay the demons Cause I'm always on attack Looking to the moon And I'm trying to find my place And now I'm looking to the north And I'm living at a pace On the tour, on the road Never stop for rest Who's the one, who's the one Who's the fkin' best Now I've got to move And I've got to move on Now I got to laugh While I'm singing this song I hand you love It's no surprise Don't step to me It's a lie

Alive in me for all to see I am the man Slowly walking down You know I'm falling into place And I'm screaming at the heavens While I'm looking at her face But I've gotta move fast And I've gotta keep my back Like the vision that she wasn't Like the girl who never danced Took my love, she took my heart She took me to the level Took my love, took my heart She took me to the devil Now I've got to move And I've got to move on Just like I said You try to bring me down You try, you try, to make me one of you I am the man
