

Ulrikke, Honestly (Ulrikke Brandstorp, Norwegia -

I never knew
Knew what you needed
The pain in your eyes
It was there all the time
Couldn't see it

You were too scared
Scared to be open
You were going through hell
And I couldn't tell you were broken

So, you say the word when the weight of the world's too much

Honestly I
I'm terrified
'Cause if there's nothing left of you and me
There's nothing left of me
You said this love
Would never die
But now there's nothing left and honestly
You said we'd always be

Til evig tid
Til evig tid

You never knew
Knew I would listen
Thought I was clear
But it's hard to hear
From a distance

So, you say the word when the weight of the world
Is getting to heavy to hold

Honestly I
I'm terrified
'Cause if there's nothing left of you and me
You said this love
Would never die
You said we'd always be

Honestly
Til evig tid
I thought it meant
Forever, Forever

Honestly I
I'm terrified
'Cause if there's nothing left of you and me
You said this love
Would never die

Til evig tid
You said we'd always be
Til evig tid
Forever
