

Ultravox, Dislocation

Running down an empty street
Perhaps it was a railway station
Smell of ??? cologne
The sound of a celebration

Chorus:

Oh-oh-oh dislocation

Oh-oh-oh dislocation

Just a swimmer growing dimmer in the glimmer of a summer

Waving gladly, swimming madly, never never going under

(Chorus)

The sun was going down one quiet evening

Someone came into the room while I was half-asleep

We spoke for a while, I couldn't see his face

Later on when he was gone, I realised I didn't catch his name

(Repeat chorus 3 times and fade)

Just a swimmer growing dimmer in the glimmer of a summer
