Ultravox, Dislocation

Running down an empty street Perhaps it was a railway station Smell of ??? cologne The sound of a celebration Chorus: Oh-oh-oh dislocation

Oh-oh-oh dislocation

Just a swimmer growing dimmer in the glimmer of a summer Waving gladly, swimming madly, never never going under (Chorus)

The sun was going down one quiet evening Someone came into the room while I was half-asleep We spoke for a while, I couldn't see his face Later on when he was gone, I realised I didn't catch his name (Repeat chorus 3 times and fade) Just a swimmer growing dimmer in the glimmer of a summer Waving gladly, swimming madly, never never going under
