Unanimated, Mournful Twilight

the darkest sleep in the greyish shadows close your eyes and follow me into the dark beyond the dreams where the memories of life goes by your eyes... you dream in fire with open soul from those dreams you hear me scream to wake up and to fall back for thou who dawn will see... in the mournful... twilight I grow I shall fall as the darkness steps in... the eternal sleep in all our souls into the flames takes my soul to the very end... my soul must be surrounded by darkness in the thousand skies of age the evil fire burns in me my burning hate is so strong... (take my soul)
