

Unbekannt, Give Me Your Heart Tonight

Oh tonight, I m walking the streets again, running away from all of my tears and friends, oh, to-night the stars are in darkened skies, they don t hold all the love
I can see in your lonely eyes cause I m not waiting for a secret
I don t wanna hear a lie, don t want the promise of to-morrow give me your heart to-night.

Too young, too young to start settling down, and I m getting too old too old to keep running around oh your love, is something I don t wanna miss, and end up alone and living on a one-night kiss
I m not crying without reason, I m not asking what is right, just like the changing of the seasons, give me your heart to-night.

I m not crying without reason, I m not asking hwat is right
just like the changing of the seasons, give me your heart to-night
I m not crying without reason, i'm not asking what is right,
just like the changing of the seasons, give me your heart to-night
