

Union 13, Why Are We Destroying Ourselves?

"Why are we, destroying ourselves?" what the hell are you fighting for killing each other day by day now that we know how the system works we know nothing is going to change they think america looks brave with rifles in their hands they always try to solve the problems of other lands many mistakes have been made throughout history and time don't look the other way or pretend you're blind why is there poverty and why is there hate everything is changing at an alarming rate "Why are we destroying ourselves?" the blue sky turns red as my eyes begin to bleed my skin is now burned off I can no longer breath this preminition I have everyday I wish it did not have to end this way no more fresh air for us to breath the water is polluted we can't have what we need humanityhas been such a waste of time the past is the present and it will be erased