

Universal Hall Pass, Quiet Use Of Charm

Zoom in to what turns me on
A maiden in my liquid form
Brewing in the deepest of cauldrons
Baffled by the absence of sun

Grace and I had no relation
Caught me idling in a stream
Once she smiles then you're ever so eager to follow

Of all the roads that stretch in their wake before me
I long to rise above all the seas that toss me to say hello!
Hello and welcome!

Blueprints on my vapor's tongue
Calling the ingredients
Grant me all the powers of water
Gild my heart with virtues of gold

Steeped in my amalgamation
Surface just to be complete
Upward flight when you know every thing's as it should be

Of all the roads that stretch in their wake before me
I long to rise above all the seas that toss me to say hello!
Hello and welcome!

Winter's quiet and every mile has double vision
Spring is calling reinvention to sing my name
