

Unkle, Morning Rage

Something burns inside me, man
Can't explain, won't understand
Anger, rage and war crime
Fear, fate and lullabies

And wake up, and wake up
And wake up, and wake up

Something burns inside me, man
Won't explain, can't understand
Seeking truth for someone's eyes
Crowded lows and lonely highs

And wake up, and wake up
And wake up, and wake up

What was that all about
Somethings turned me inside out
So I put myself around
Cause you pull me in then turn me out

What was that all about
Somethings turned me inside out
So I put myself around
Cause you pull me in then turn me out

Something burns inside me, man
Don't explain, won't understand
Darling please don't walk away
Frozen hearts don't like to say

And wake up, and wake up
And wake up, and wake up
And wake up, and wake up
And wake up, and wake up

What was that all about
Something's turned me inside out
So I put myself around
Cause you pull me in then turn me out

What was that all about
Something's turned me inside out
So I put myself around
Cause you pull me in then turn me out

Nothing lasts forever, man
Nothing lasts forever and
Nothing lasts forever, man
Nothing lasts forever and

And wake up, and wake up
And wake up, and wake up
And wake up, and wake up
And wake up, and wake up
