Unkle, Rabbit In Your Headlights

I'm a rabbit in your headlights Scared of the spotlight

You don't come to visit

I'm stuck on this bed

Thin rubber gloves

She laughs when she's crying

She cries when she's laughing

Fat bloody fingers are sucking your soul away

I'm a rabbit in your headlights

Christian suburbanite

Washed down the toilet

Money to burn

Fat bloody fingers are sucking your soul away

Sample from Jacobs Ladder:

'If you're frightened of dying and then you hold on

You'll see devils tearing your life away

But, if you've made your peace

Then the devils are really angels

Freeing you from the Earth... from the Earth'

White worms on the underground

Caught between stations

Butter fingers

I'm losing my patience

I'm a rabbit in your headlights

Christian suburbanite

You got money to burn

Fat bloody fingers are sucking your soul away... away... away...
