

Unknown Girls, Impossible

I looked in sky every night, and there you
I still think what it will be when you
He fell in love in me but I know that this impossible it is... in every dream, what night, you appear
I still dream to on me though you would look
But I know, that you do not want that this impossible is it was so always
It is so now
it will be so always I pour out every day tear unnecessarily she would would want so very it came off well me but I will not alter fate this impossible it is

ref:

therefore fight about this feeling which you have the priceless treasure which is useful life taste choose straight line road through street pass
and tell never never therefore fight

I looked in sky every night, and there you
I still think what it will be when you
He fell in love in me but I know
that this impossible it is...
in every dream, what night, you appear
I still dream to on me though you would look
But I know, that you do not want
that this impossible is
it was so always
It is so now
it will be so always

ref:

therefore fight about this feeling which you have
the priceless treasure which is useful life taste
choose straight line road
through street pass
and tell never never
therefore fight