

Unleashed Power, Hibernate

defective machine dictating inane for all its intent the crisis remain not to read and write

a disease we must fight

incarcerated by no insight impervious to the lasting effect which carries through life as a strong defect

because of this fallacy unaware of an event

imposing this malady

inveigled by false intent delete the education

culminate in ignorance

knowledge in hibernation wait to have deliverance words spoken but not read how can we escape this dread no one reads no one writes must secure our birth rights the power inside subject to arise in hibernation waiting to devise

incapable of literacy awareness has been reduced by their inadequacy lunacy has been induced
