

Unleashed Power, Nefarious

As they migrate to the North

Escape nefarious scorn

Penitent plunging forth

Empty eyes that feel forlorn

Nefarious Lurks

They wear the burden of grief

The appearance of great loss

This world of crumbled belief

Capitulate their lost cause

Nefarious Lurks

They weep for their loved ones lost

They contemplate the enormous cost

Malignancy can never cease

Procreate despair as disease

As the wicked accrue to destroy and subdue

For they will aggrieve

to rape them and bereave

Evil shroud upon us all

Malice has answered the call

Encase, impose it's decree

Severed the right to be free

Gathered to set the plot to become the next despot

Hide, divide, chose your side with no body to confide

Through the shimmering light they feel their will power bent No dawn to break the night in this place belligerent

Nefarious Lurks

So they were left there disdained with no one left to be blamed Fettered in the grip of fear ascertained, evil is here Asphyxiate on their loss Malign spirit sweeps across forsaken all of their hope Love and faith, their will to cope