

UnSuNg ZeRoS, End Of Innocence

the time is drawing near for me to pack away my things and leave this life behind and all the things i've known and all that i've benn taught are only in my memory and i'm not sure i want to go away so soon the stomping grounds i've known for all these twenty years are many miles away like scabs from falls at five i'm sure they'll fade in my mind i'm scared they'll fade in my mind the seasons change
and times move on i'll always wish for days like these
our times have moved on and i'm scared that these are my best days
and our time has moved on god don't let these be mine
