

Until The End, Eyes And Ash

As this song begins, i have a knife in my back.
But by this song's end,
i'll shove the blade through your chest.
In respect to those, who dont fking care.
Keep the fk out of my way, I'm better off without you.
Led away from the fire again.
I only owe myself the credit.
I have proved myself worth.
Time and time again.
Stretched out on the ground,
it's only me against the world.
With the sky as my only counterpart, this if life alone.
this is not the end, You only feed the flames.
This is not the end, And it still burns.
