

Urban Rock, Blue

Fk time, Ive broken my own heart
60 seconds talking never tore no-one apart
Im sorry i only spoke few words
But seeing you again made me fly high with the birds

And i know that we may not see eachother again
But you'll make someone happy
And i'll go back to being blue again

There was a moment that will stay with me
Until the day my conquerer hands me heavens key
I saw you in the city all alone
No falling rain, no televisions, no ringing mobile phones

And i know that we may not see eachother again

But you'll make someone happy
And i'll go back to being blue again

All i ever seem to do is try to get over you
But it never works, Frustration allways lurks

Now im feeling pretty down
Like a blindman staring into space
May just vanish without trace
So goodbye, nice to know you
We'll work and drink and meet new friends
The road is straight, we'll cut the bends

And i know that we will never see eachother again
But you'll make someone happy, and i'll go back to being blue again
