Uriah Heep, BEEN HURT (vocals John Lawton)

Whoah, don't you know I've been hurt Oh yeah, don't you know I've been hurt Oh babe, you know You're doin' me wrong, yeah At the age of eighteen I had had enough And by twenty one I decided to get tough And then I found the guard Was still too rough Oh yeah, I've been hurt Ever since that day I've been hurt And I've lost my way I still think I have a chance To try your love Well, I tried to love you One day at a time Each day waitin' Hopin' for the sign It was clear I needed luck More than this time My empty heart is Countin' all the ways Fire and desire Sat and count the days Will you, won't you When and where Do you, don't you, do I care That same eternal question Is always there It's always there
