

Urma, Comfort

I can't find no comfort in this world today
Even coffee tastes so bitter
And my need for speed is pushing me away
Guess I'll have to crash to rest a little

Guess I'll have to hold
Guess I'll have to hold on
To all I can get (as good as it gets)
To all I can get (as good as it gets)
To all I can get (as good as it gets)
To all I can get (as good as it gets)

I can't find relief, should I walk your way?
Filling all these empty spaces
But my need for speed is sending you away
I guess I'll have to rest another day

Guess I'll have to hold
Guess I'll have to hold on
To all I can get (as good as it gets)
To all I can get (as good as it gets)
To all I can get (as good as it gets)
To all I can get (as good as it gets)

'Cause I don't want to hold
Who said I need to hold on to all I can get?
'Cause all I need is you.
