

Urma, September

Don't tell me that you need me now
Divided heart is all we have
A lot of dust is all I can give
Can't find a meaning for this end

Release your day, don't keep it longer
A better one stays in the line
Can't kill the smile that lies behind me
It's time to run

Somehow I'll keep on living
Alive to live september days
Somehow I'll keep on running
Away from you.

You'd rather hide yourself away
Just take your chance when I am not there
Can't kill the smile that lies behind me
No place to run

Somehow I'll keep on living
Alive to feel september days
Somehow I'll keep on running
Away from you.

I'm stuck in a moment, which keeps us alive
I'll dream of september, don't wake me up
I'm trapped in a place, where we do belong
I dream of a lifetime.

I'll be reaching home soon
Find my little lost child
I'll be reaching home soon
Find my little lost child

I'm already home
In my heart I feel home
I'm already home
In my heart I feel home

I'll be reaching home soon
Find my little lost child
I'll be reaching home soon
Find my little lost child
