Useless ID, Room Of Anger

They got reasons of their own
But he clears himself of blame
Locked the door behind
In a room of anger
Without windows he cannot look outside
Can not see the lights
He's living in the dark
Empty reasons, empty cause
Drowning in his empty thoughts
It's hard to understand
His positive intentions
What keeps him waiting
In his lonely room?
A world without remorse?
Well, I guess not!
'Cause if there's something wrong outside
I guess he'll never know about it
He's locked inside
Yeah, if there's something wrong outside
Then I guess he won't ever hear about it
He's locked inside
He's got reason of his own
Why he slammed the door behind
Couldn't read their thoughts
Couldn't face their minds
Wanted all to change
But who is blind
Himself inside the room
Yeah, it's all dark inside
'Cause if there's something wrong outside
I guess he'll never know about it
He's locked inside
Yeah, if there's something wrong outside
Then I guess he won't ever hear about it
He's locked inside
