

Utada, First Love (Translation)

The last kiss tasted like cigarette
A bitter and sad scent
Tomorrow around this time
Where will you possibly be?
Who will you be possibly thinking about?
You are always gonna be my love
Even though I will fall in love with someone someday
I'll remember to love
You taught me how
You are always gonna be the one
It is still a sad love song right now
Until I am able to sing another brand new song
The time that has once stopped
What made it move again?
There are still things that I don't want to forget about
Tomorrow around this time
I must be crying
Maybe I will be thinking of you
yayaya
You will always be inside my heart
There will always be a place in my heart only for you
I hope I will have a place in your heart too
You are always gonna be the one
It is still a sad love song
Until I am able to sing a brand new song
You are always gonna be my love
Even though I will fall in love again with someone someday
I'll remember to love
You taught me how
You are always gonna be the one
It is still a sad love song
Until I am able to sing a brand new song
