

V-Corps, Another World

I felt it again today and I just didn't know why was it here when I let my eyes follow this soundless voice I saw another world... and I went straight ahead The sunshine reminds me all the things that I knew as a dream of past I wanted to stay there to feel like this but it has gone to fast I went through the gate but I wasn't sure I deserved to be there suddenly I was back on a street and I cried cause I wanted to be back there again I'll be trying, I'll be fighting all my life to get there once more I'll be living, I'll be dying hundreds times to walk through that door
The sunshine reminds me all the things
that I knew as a dream of past
I wanted to stay there to feel like this
