Val Emmich, Selfish Blues

You wanted me to be the bad boy someone you could run to when things boring with your boyfriend you could count on me for something new but it never really worked cuz people they get hurt and this time that person was me

I wanted you all to myself
I couldn't share you with anybody else

You wanted me to be the tough guy to put my feelings aside believe me, girl, when I say I was trying to share you with another guy

I wanted you all to myself
I couldn't share you with anybody else

It wasn't easy to bite my tongue when I knew you were the one

belive me, girl, when I say I was trying but my feelings. . .
I can't hide

I wanted you all to myself
anyone else. . .
I wanted you all to myself
(anybody else . . .)

no one else
no one else
no one, no one
no one else
no one else
no one else
no one but me
