Valentine, Point Of No Return

Am i fooling myself every time i think of you
Temptation's calling me to walk on through that door
You've got something like i've never seen
And it's driving me crazy
Each time you pass me on the street
My heart goes to the floor
I keep telling' myself over and over
Hold on to what you have
But it's too late i just can't fight it anymore

[verse]
Is this love or just an obsession
It's been another lonely night of walking the floor
I 've seen the sun come up to break a new day
And the rain on my windowpane
Are just the tears that fall
I keep telling' myself over and over
Hold on to what you have
But it's too late i just can't fight it anymore

[chorus]
I'm at the point of no return, baby, with you
And now there's no turning back
My yesterdays are through they only live in the past
If love is my concern and everyday is you
Yes, i believe, i've reached the point of no return

[bridge]
Summer's gone
And the east winds blowing' free
I'm holdin' on to a life of change
What lies ahead for me now is such a mystery
