

Vampiria, Brother Wolf (The Path Of Seventh Moon)

From far away, in the forest where i go, comes to my ears, the howling of a wolf... wolf!

Terrible things waits for me, but blood calls, the path of seventh moon, burns in my skin.

I'm running through the trees, with a black storm starting in my eyes. I feel my blood. I fell the fire, burning all the land, and all is left is this silence of a darkest night, the Wolf invincible, the reign... into the shadows.

Slowly, my senses sharpening. I can smell everything in the air. A supernatural energy. impels-me. i'm awakening to my new being.

I'm running through the trees, with a black storm starting in my eyes. I feel my blood. I fell the fire, burning all the land, and all is left is this silence of a darkest night, the Wolf invincible, the reign... into the shadows.

Brother wolf, now i walk beside you,, and we share the pray.
