Van Morrison, If You Love Me

If you love me You will give your heart Why should we be apart If you love me

If you love me You will know the truth I wasn't born to lose And I love you

Affinity and communication That makes reality Understanding is the first thing It means so much to me

If I love you I will find the key If it's meant to be 'Cause I love you

Affinity and communication That is reality Understanding is the first thing It means so much to me

If I love you I will find the key If it's meant to be 'Cause I love you
