Van Morrison, Orangefield

On a gold autumn day You came my way in Orangefield Saw you standing by the riverside in Orangefield How I love you then in Orangefield Like I love you now in Orangefield

And the sun shone on your hair When I saw you there in Orangefield Saw you standing by the riverside in Orangefield How I loved you then in Orangefield Like I love you now in Orangefield

And the sun shone so bright And it lit up all our days You were the apple of my eye Baby it's true

On a golden autumn day All my dreams came true in Orangefield On a throne of Ulster day You came my way in Orangefield How I loved you then in Orangefield Like I love you now in Orangefield

And the sun shone so bright And it lit up all our lives And the apple of my eye Baby was you

On a throne of Ulster day You came my way in Orangefield Saw you standing by the riverside in Orangefield How I loved you then in Orangefield Like I love you now in Orangefield How I loved you then in Orangefield Like I love you now in Orangefield.
