

Vandavanda, Perfect Girl

Whatever may come , whatever may go
Whatever will be, she's perfect to me

Every morning when i open my eyes
I wanna cry a little Lay down and die a little

I feel so happy that i just can't disguise
My heart is beating stronger Can't hide it any longer

And nobody knows the truth
If i could depend on you
To keep a secret
I wanna tell the whole wide world

There's nothing i wouldn't do
To look in her eyes of blue
Been all around the world looking for the perfect girl

She walks like a woman
she talkes like a woman, she talkes and it's understood
she's the perfect girl

She walks like a woman
She talks like a woman, she talkes she makes mefeel good
she's the perfect girl

Every time she walks out of my life
I wanna cry a little
Lie down and die a little

Cause life's too short for us to say goodbye
In good or nasty weather
Girl, we belong togheter

CHORUS

Whatever may come , whatever may go

CHORUS...
