

Vanessa Amorosi, Pray For Love

I lift my eyes up to heaven above
And what I'm asking for is all I've ever been dreaming of True love is so hard to find, won't you pray...
Diamonds and pearls and fortune and fame
Some ask for sunshine and others for rain
Is what I'm asking for, asking too much, won't you pray...

C'mon and pray for love

Late at night when I'm alone in my room
Whispering your name bu the light of the mmidnight moon
I believe that day will come, won't you pray...
There's just too many lonely people
Too many lonely people in this world
Too many lonely, lonely people, won't you pray...

Too many lonely boys, too many lonely girls...
Too many lonely people in this world
