

Vanessa Carlton, Heroes And Thieves

Well, disaster it strikes on a daily basis
Im looking for wisdom in all the wrong places
But still want to laugh in disappointed faces
You cant help me
Blinded by these

Heroes and Thieves at my door
I cant seem to tell them apart anymore
Just when Ive figured it out
Well darlin' its you Im without.

Well Im stubborn and wrong
But at least I know it

Keep moving along until I can get through this
But maybe this song is the best I can do it
So Im patiently waiting on these

Heroes and Thieves at my door
I cant seem to tell them apart anymore
Just when I've figured it out
Well darlin' its you
Darlin' its you oh,
Darlin' its you Im

Without your comforting logic

Like these days are the ones Ill miss
And I see a solitude that I cant find without you.
Ah ah, ah
La da da

Well, it seems like Im getting closer somehow
A flicker of peace that Ive finally found
Thank you for believing in me now
'Cause I do need it

Well, give me a year or two
And Ill mend my ways and see these mistakes and
When I see the truth
Well, darlin' trust me
When I cant see
Ill be coming back; Ill be coming back to you

These heroes and thieves at my door
I cant seem to tell them apart anymore
Just when Ive figured it out
Well, darlin' its you
Darlin' its you
Well, darling its you Im without
Ah, ah, ah.
