

Vanessa Tuna, Goodbye

I was the one whose heart had been broken
I was the one who suffered the pain
Words aren't important if they are not spoken
So many tears like outside when it rains
Couldn't see clear how life can't go on
Longing for someone was longing for you
I recognize all the things I've been through
And the loss that I have

Good-bye it hurts
Our life will change
It's sad because nothing will be the same
My love it's over the curtain comes down
It's hard because emptiness will remain

I was the one who hurt your emotions
I was the one who brought you the pain
Hiding my feelings was not the solution
They can't be forced or even explained
Couldn't see clear I repressed what I felt
Thought about how am I gonna tell you
I recognize that there's no one to blame
No one to blame
Bridge:
How would life seem like if you were still here?
Would it be easier?
Would you replace my fears?
Would you catch all the tears in my eyes?

Good-bye it hurts
Our life will change
It's sad because nothing will be the same
My love it's over the curtain comes down
It's hard because emptiness will remain
