

Vanessa Williams, Where do we go from here

Life can be strange, somethings we forget or rearrange in time, lose the past Tell me the truth, tell me how can I know that this new love of ours, that its gonna last I need your strength and I feel your worth with you I feel protected from all harm
Where do we go from here it's clear
You erase the fear in me, that keeps me alone
Where do we go from here I know
No matter what the road, your love will lead me home What's in a name, his life just a game we color then erase (we've been erased), when we lose face How many lives, tell me how many tries before we get it right (before we get it right), the truth is inside
I need your strength and I feel your worth
with you I feel protected from all harm
Where do we go from here it's clear
You erase the fear in me, that keeps me alone
Where do we go from here I know
No matter what the road, your love will lead me home
When I never weak, so weak to scared to speak
When I never low, so low to tell me, you will never need
Where do we go from here it's clear
You erase the fear in me, that keeps me alone
Where do we go from here I know
No matter what the road, your love will lead me home
No matter what the road, your love will lead me
